SurgiCenter

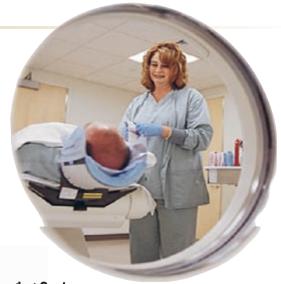

The Reading Hospital SurgiCenter is a state-of-the art ambulatory surgical facility with operating rooms, a recovery area, and a patient and family waiting area. We provide a full range of surgical services designed to move all but the most intensive types of services to a less costly, more accessible, and more convenient setting apart from the hospital.

We've streamlined the surgical process so that most patients are in and out within three hours. And because music has been shown to speed healing, you have the option to wake from surgery to your choice of music, all part of therapy to speed your recovery.

We take special care of children, too! Our highly skilled surgeons are certified to perform pediatric surgery and our pediatric pre/post-operative suites are equipped with a video game and DVD system to help your child relax before and after surgery.
